

Home health agencies and hospices are required to submit Medicare cost reports reflecting reimbursable and non-reimbursable activities in accordance with applicable laws, regulations, and instructions. Our extensive experience with cost reporting, and home health/hospice reports specifically, makes us uniquely qualified to serve all of your cost reporting and reimbursement related needs.

Experience Counts

The Medicare cost report is used in conjunction with billing information by the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") for purposes of reviewing compliance with applicable requirements and payments for services rendered. These reports have never been more important as CMS looks toward home health payment rebasing, modification of hospice payments to reflect resource utilization, and payment reductions that could be mandated by any healthcare reform legislation.

Whether you are free-standing, provider-based, tax-exempt, or proprietary, we have the experience and resources to address the specific reimbursement needs of your organization.

Additionally, our audit, tax, and other consulting services to home health/hospice providers enables us to relate any cost reporting services to other financial needs to help ensure the overall health of your organization.

- Preparation of Medicare Cost Reports, including Form 339
- Consultation and preparation of Form 855
- Consultation in mergers and acquisitions relating to cost reporting and reimbursement-related issues
- Preparation of Home Office Cost Reports and consultation relating to organizational issues
- Consultation relating to alternative reimbursement strategies
- Consultation and assistance relating to PIP reimbursement for hospices
- Cost report training
- Preparation of extended repayment plans