

Dixon Hughes serves home health agencies and hospices across the country. Whether your organization is tax-exempt, proprietary, freestanding, provider-based, or part of a chain, we have the skills and resources to meet your unique accounting, audit, tax, and consulting needs.

A History of First-Class Service

The growth of home health and hospice services across the country is indicative of the demographics and cost pressures confronting the healthcare delivery system. In fact, your needs are as diverse as the healthcare delivery system itself. Dixon Hughes has long recognized the importance of home health and hospice services and has committed significant resources to the industry.

Our working knowledge of home health and hospice extends over thirty (30) years and our professionals have watched as service utilization has periodically contracted and expanded due to governmental influences. However, regardless of short-term influences, our service offerings are directed at enhancing operations, ensuring governmental compliance, securing appropriate reimbursement, and increasing general efficiencies of our home health and hospice clients. Your professional advisors should know your business, and Dixon Hughes does.
